

CTE ANNOUNCEMENTS 8/4/18

Can you believe our 2018 season has already come to a close? Six weeks goes so fast! Congratulations to our Showcase and PT students on their final show last night, and to all of our students for an incredible summer of learning, fun, and wonderful performances!

In case you didn't make it to closing night to hear from our workshop directors in person, here are a few exciting announcements about next summer that we'd like to share with our entire CTE community:

1. SHOWS! Our Showcase workshop will be performing NEWSIES, the award-winning musical about newspaper boys fighting for better treatment in turn-of-the-century New York.

Our Spotlight workshop will be performing TO SEE THE STARS by Cynthia Mercati, a straight play telling the story of young girls working at a shirtwaist factory and fighting for their rights, also set in turn-of-the-century New York.

These show choices are intentional, as their material reflects CTE's commitment to youth empowerment and our youth-mentoring-youth philosophy. As always, Arts Festival will perform a series of short plays, mini musicals, and group numbers directed by our fabulous interns.

2. CTE is thrilled to announce our newly established partnership with SPSCC, whose campus will be our home for the 2019 season. This new facility is big, bright, and beautiful – and air-conditioned!
